GMTX to Launch World's First Legal Tender Tokens Exchange, Ushering in a New Era of Global Tokenized Finance

Cheyenne, WY – September 9, 2025 – GMTX announced today that it will launch the world's first Legal Tender Tokens Exchange for both domestic and international markets in October. The exact launch date will be confirmed in the coming weeks.

This milestone marks a turning point in the global financial system — delivering a marketplace where registered legal tender tokens tied to enforceable contracts and real-world assets can be traded with the full backing of Wyoming's pioneering digital asset statutes.

Shah Mathias, Founder and Chairman of GMTX, underscored both the urgency and opportunity of the launch:

"This is more than an exchange — it is the beginning of a new era in finance. We highly encourage our token family members and incoming participants to expedite the completion of any outstanding items or resolutions without further delay. The GMTX Exchange represents a historic opportunity for both domestic and international markets, and we want our Alliance partners to enjoy the much anticipated liquidity and stability this platform is designed to provide."

The GMTX Exchange is structured to deliver a secure, compliant, and transparent environment for token trading, ensuring institutional-grade protections while unlocking liquidity for governments, corporations, and family offices worldwide.
